About the property

Set within an established residential position in Hucclecote, this well-proportioned two-bedroom semi-detached bungalow offers comfortable single-storey living alongside a particularly useful combination of driveway parking, a southerly-facing garden and substantial powered garage and workshop.

The accommodation is arranged around a central entrance hall, with both bedrooms positioned towards the front of the property. Each is a comfortable double, with the principal bedroom benefitting from a bay window and bedroom two incorporating useful fitted storage. Beyond, the living accommodation has a pleasing sense of space and connection. The living room provides a comfortable everyday reception area before opening into the adjoining dining room, where glazed doors lead directly onto the rear garden. Together, the two rooms create a sociable living arrangement while retaining a degree of separation between the spaces.

The kitchen sits alongside and is fitted with a comprehensive range of cabinetry and work surfaces, with space for everyday appliances and a door providing further access outside. A bathroom completes the internal accommodation.

Outside is where the property offers considerably more than might first be expected. A generous driveway runs alongside the bungalow, providing ample off-road parking and leading to a substantial detached garage. Extending to over 21ft, the garage is considerably larger than a conventional single garage and benefits from power, while an adjoining workshop provides further practical space. Whether required for vehicles, storage, hobbies or a dedicated working area, it is an unusually versatile addition to the property.

The rear garden enjoys a southerly-facing aspect and has been thoughtfully arranged to provide several areas in which to sit and enjoy the outside space. Paved and decked seating areas are complemented by established planting and a lawn, creating an attractive and relatively manageable garden with a good degree of privacy.

With two double bedrooms, flexible living space, excellent parking and particularly useful garaging, 24 Parkwood Crescent represents an appealing opportunity for buyers looking for a comfortable bungalow with genuine practicality both inside and out. The sellers have also secured an onward purchase, creating a complete chain.

Amenities

Hucclecote is a well-established and popular residential area, conveniently positioned between Cheltenham and Gloucester and offering an excellent balance of everyday amenities, green space and accessibility. The area has a strong community feel and is particularly well suited to those looking for a quieter residential setting while remaining within easy reach of both town centres.

Local facilities include a selection of shops, supermarkets, cafés and everyday services, while the surrounding area offers plenty of opportunities for walking and recreation. Hucclecote is also well served by local schooling, with a range of primary and secondary options available nearby.

For commuters, the area is particularly well placed, with convenient access to the A417, M5 and wider road network providing straightforward connections to Cheltenham, Gloucester, Stroud and beyond. Gloucester railway station also offers regular services to Bristol, Birmingham, London and other major destinations.

Combining established residential surroundings with excellent connectivity and a good range of amenities close at hand, Hucclecote continues to be a popular choice for buyers seeking a practical and well-connected place to call home.
