what the owner said

This apartment was home to my late mother, who took great delight in the many conveniences and pleasures of living here. As a very independent lady, she appreciated having so much within a short and level walk, ensuring there was always something to enjoy. These included:

- Close proximity to Cirencester's wide variety of shops, both independent and national brands, with Waitrose being a particular favourite thanks to its ever-helpful staff.
- The expansive Home Park and the peaceful Abbey Grounds.
- A lovely choice of local restaurants and cafés.
- The nearby GP surgery, chemist and hospital.
- St John Baptist Church.
- The local library, etc.

She especially valued the peace, quiet and sense of security the apartment provided, along with the generous living space and storage. The second bedroom proved ideal for organising her belongings after moving from a larger bungalow.

From a practical point of view, she found it straightforward to look after herself. The modern kitchen, laundry facilities and well-designed ensuite shower room made day-to-day living comfortable and manageable.

Moving into a managed development brought her real reassurance. She was grateful to step away from the upkeep of her former home and garden while still enjoying independence, privacy and the freedom to live life at her own pace.

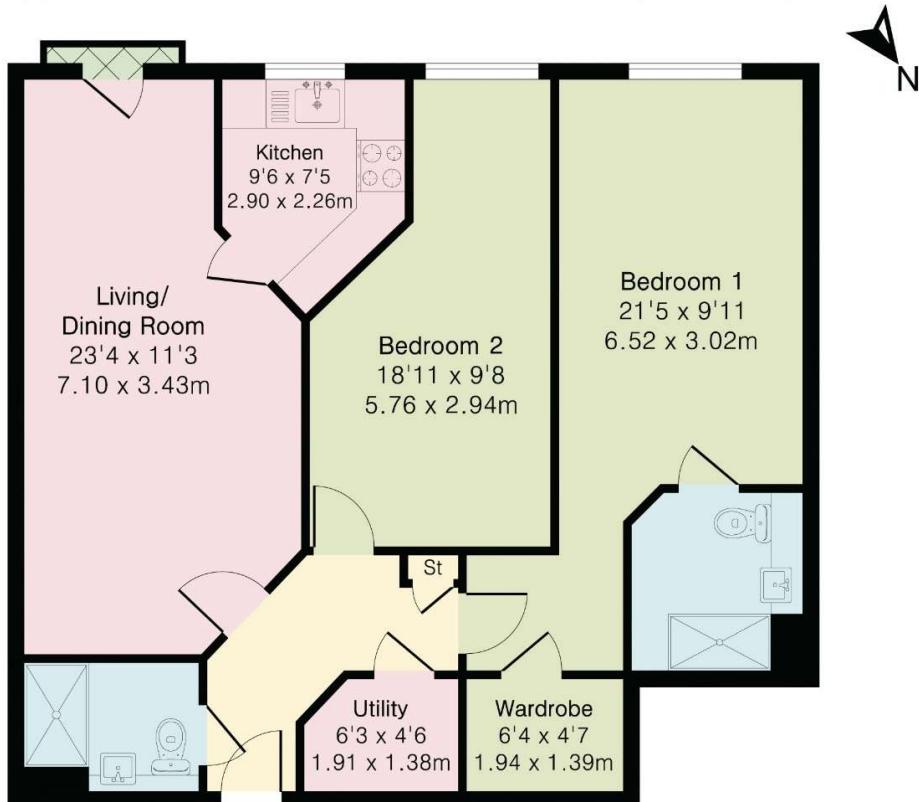

She warmly appreciated the support and companionship offered by fellow homeowners and McCarthy Stone staff, and found comfort in being part of a community—even on days when she couldn't join the activities.

The guest suite was a thoughtful bonus, enabling me to visit and stay overnight conveniently and at a very reasonable rate.

Although her final year was spent away from the apartment, she always spoke of it with great affection and a wish to return, so we kept it ready for her at all times.

Whilst mum enjoyed the freedom of stepping out into the town, it was also a joy to see her so contented here, sitting in her warm living room, enjoying a chat or simply watching the world go by.
