About the property

Tucked away in a peaceful cul-de-sac in the popular Ebley area, this well-proportioned three-bedroom mid-terrace home offers fantastic space and practicality, ideal for families or first-time buyers alike. Built in the 1960s, the property enjoys a balanced layout with plenty of natural light throughout.

The ground floor comprises a welcoming entrance hall leading through to a bright and airy lounge/dining room (with great views over the valley towards Selsley!), creating a superb open space for both relaxing and entertaining. The kitchen sits to the rear, with access to the integral garage, offering useful storage or potential for conversion (subject to the necessary consents).

Upstairs, there are three good-sized bedrooms along with a family bathroom, all accessed from a central landing.

Externally, the property benefits from driveway parking to the front, while to the rear there is a generous garden, perfect for outdoor dining and family use.

Situated approximately 1.5 miles from Stroud town centre, the property enjoys easy access to a wide range of amenities, schools and transport links, while still retaining a quiet residential setting.

Amenities

Stroud is a vibrant Cotswold market town that consistently ranks as one of the most desirable places to live in the South West, offering a strong sense of community, excellent schooling and superb access to both countryside and commuter links. The nearby suburb of Ebley enjoys all of these wider benefits, while providing a slightly quieter, more accessible setting on the edge of the town.

Ebley & Local Amenities

Ebley itself is a well-established residential area popular with families, offering a friendly community feel and a range of everyday conveniences. Within walking distance you'll find local shops, supermarkets and eateries, as well as easy access to nearby areas such as Cainscross and the wider Stroud town centre. The area is also well served by bus routes, making it easy to get into town without relying solely on a car.

For outdoor space, Ebley is particularly well placed. The nearby Stroudwater Canal provides attractive waterside walks and cycle routes, linking through to Stroud and beyond, while local green spaces such as Victory Park offer recreational areas and community events.

Parks & Outdoor Lifestyle

Stroud is renowned for its access to beautiful countryside, with a network of valleys, commons and walking routes. From Ebley, you are within easy reach of popular spots such as Selsley Common and Rodborough Common, both offering panoramic views and open green space. The canal paths and surrounding countryside make this an ideal location for those who enjoy walking, cycling and outdoor living.

Schools & Education

The area is particularly well regarded for schooling, making it attractive to families. Within close proximity to Ebley are several well-rated primary schools, including St Matthew's C of E Primary School and Foxmoor Primary School. At secondary level, Stroud offers a strong selection of both comprehensive and grammar schools, including Marling School, Archway School and the highly regarded Stroud High School.

Transport Links

Ebley is well positioned for both local and regional travel. Stroud railway station is approximately 1.3 miles away and provides direct services to Gloucester, Cheltenham, Bristol and London Paddington, making it ideal for commuters.

For road users, the A419 is easily accessible and connects directly to Junction 13 of the M5, offering straightforward routes to Bristol, Cheltenham and the wider motorway network.

Stroud Town Centre

Stroud itself offers an excellent range of independent shops, cafés and restaurants, alongside larger supermarkets and leisure facilities. The award-winning farmers' market is a particular highlight, and the town has a thriving arts and cultural scene, giving it a unique and vibrant character.

Overall

Ebley combines the best of both worlds – a convenient and well-connected location with excellent local amenities, access to highly regarded schools, and immediate proximity to some of the finest countryside in the region. It's an ideal setting for families, professionals and those looking to enjoy a balanced lifestyle.
