About the property

A pretty Cotswold stone cottage which has been thoughtfully extended to create a warm and welcoming home, perfectly suited to relaxed modern living.

The property is entered via a charming dining room, where a feature bookcase marks the position of the original staircase and adds character to the space. To the rear, a hallway provides practical storage for coats and shoes, with stairs rising to the first floor. The downstairs cloakroom offers exceptional cupboard space, cleverly concealing the washing machine, boiler and even a wine fridge.

The cosy sitting room is a delightful space to unwind, centred around a real flame gas fire and enjoying lovely views across the fields beyond. Behind the dining room is a more recent extension which is currently used as a home office but would equally make a wonderful playroom or children's den. At the end of this space is a snug seating area with bi-folding doors opening onto the garden, creating a perfect spot to relax while enjoying the connection to the outdoors.

A real highlight of the house is the generous kitchen, beautifully designed with plenty of storage, a pantry cupboard and planned space for both a dishwasher and an American-style fridge/freezer. With windows on two sides, the room feels wonderfully light and airy and offers ample work surfaces for cooking and entertaining. A traditional two-door AGA brings a comforting warmth during the cooler months, complemented by an adjacent electric AGA cooker with a gas hob for summer use.

Upstairs, the landing is filled with natural light and leads to the first-floor accommodation, with further stairs rising to the second floor where there is a good-sized guest bedroom. On the first floor there is an additional double bedroom and a family bathroom with a bath and overhead shower. The principal bedroom is a particularly lovely room, spacious and inviting, with an en-suite bathroom featuring both a bath and separate shower, as well as a built-in television. A door leads through to an impressive dressing room, a space many would dream of having.

Outside, the gardens have been beautifully landscaped. At the front, a stone pathway leads to the entrance, with parking for one car and an ornamental cherry tree that provides a spectacular display when in bloom.

To the side of the house is a raised terrace, perfect for entertaining friends or enjoying the far-reaching views, with a canopy above offering shade on sunny days. The garden continues around the rear of the house, where mature planting and hedging create a lovely sense of privacy. A patio provides the ideal place to sit and catch the last of the evening sun, and there is also a useful garden shed.

On the road a carport provides covered parking for one vehicle along with additional storage to the rear.

what the owner said

We bought the house in 2000, and have loved living here, we extended it with the idea that we would never leave, but circumstances have changed.

The quiet location and short walk into Tetbury are perfect, the Recreation Ground at the top lane was everything that our dog could wish for.

Our neighbour on the attached side is so quiet but friendly and happy to keep an eye on the house when we go away.

We have a small enclave with the 4 houses that face each other, all lovely neighbours, we have a WhatsApp group and look out for each other. I think this the perfect mix of quiet location with a short walk to local facilities.
